The Gecko

WELCOME!

September 2006

Just a small Gecko this time. As there is such a large catalogue of second hand music, the Gecko has become small and simple. Over the page is a list of new music that has come in over the last month, and I am expecting a lot more new music to arrive shortly from the UK that will appear in the next Gecko (particularly from Peacock Press).

OMRC2007

As most of you would be aware, things are now really moving along for the Orpheus Music Recorder Course 2007. Enrolments have been coming in with many people wishing to take advantage of the early bird bonus (which consists of a gift vouchure to the value of $50 to spend on Orpheus Music publications. This can include any Orpheus music publications that happen to be used as set works).

So far, "Musical Expression in Melodies" has been the most popular technique choice so there are now only limited places remaining in that class. If you do not get your first choice I will let you know so that you can choose another option. There are plenty of spaces on all other classes.

If you have any questions about the course please do not hesitate to contact me. Email is the best way as I am teaching quiet a bit through the week. Some of the answers to questions posed already that may help:

- you can bring a non-playing partner and you can both stay on campus. Both the course and the residential facilities are at PLC Armidale.
- there will be the opportunity for informal playing during the course as well as plenty of time to ask tutors questions over meals and breaks.

- there will be a large music display as well as recorders and CDs to listen to.

If there are any particular recorders that you are interested in looking at, let me know and I will try and get them in for the course. It is always much easier to be able to try out instruments before buying, just as it is much easier selecting music you can actually see rather than selecting from a catalogue.

New Publication Series for Orpheus Music (OMOS)

Orpheus will shortly be launching a new Publications Series called the Orpheus Music Orlando Series that will focus on good arrangements of existing music. The current Orpheus Music Publications have focussed on new music, and although there are arrangements amongst them, they have been arrangements that contain a large amount of new material. There will be however, a few that will be transferred from the old editions to the new Series, including The Entertainer and 12th Street Rag. The new Series will include Lance Eccles arrangements of Renaissance Lute songs and some Telemann arranged by Benjamin Thorn.

Composition Competition

There have been many entries from all over the world. They will be judged in Mid October when we are sure that the last possible ones from overseas have arrived. Results announced early November.
